

Character Compare and Contrast

By Abby N.

In this paper, I'm going to be comparing two characters. The characters I'll be comparing are Sabrina and Daphne Grimm, from the Sisters Grimm series by Michael Buckley. The topics I will be comparing are their appearance, personality, actions, why they act that way, and their combat abilities.

APPEARANCE

Sabrina and Daphne both look very different, yet the same.

Sabrina is four years older than Daphne, and she looks older. She has straight blond hair (which she always wears down), and shocking blue eyes. Her cheeks are rosy red, and she has a small stiff nose. She always tries to wear normal, blend in with the crowd types of outfits, like a blue pair of jeans and a red shirt. Daphne is a completely different story. She has dark brown hair that she either puts in two braids, or in a funnel cloud shape, and chocolaty brown eyes. She's always wearing something different, like a bow the size of her head, or a ballooned covered shirt with a painted monkey on it. Her nose is high, and eyes always shine bright. Sabrina and Daphne both have straight hair, and delicate hands when they work with magic. But they differ in some ways too, like Sabrina will always have a scar on her upper lip where a Jabberwocky almost killed her, and how Daphne like to stand out, when Sabrina would prefer not to.

PERSONALITY

If you met them, you would think Sabrina and Daphne were complete opposites. Sabrina is a very bold, strong, and brave person. She's sarcastic, funny, and overprotective of her sister. "There were three things Sabrina Grimm took great pride in: she had successfully arm-wrestled and beaten every boy at her old orphanage (including two embarrassed janitor); she wasn't afraid of heights; and she wasn't a sissy. But when one wakes up to a giant spider in her face, they should be allowed to scream" She is also always on alert, watching the Everafters she distrusts. (Fairy tale characters who are real, and never age unless they want to, or fall in love) Daphne is a world away from that. She is always in a springy mood and is cheery and happy with delight. She loves the Grimm's fairy tale detective business and wants to jump headfirst into them. She's always laughing and giggling, and loves all the Everafters, and thinks they deserve a better life. They have their differences, like how Daphne loves Everafters, and Sabrina despises most of them, and how Sabrina is cautious, and Daphne always gets into trouble, but they also have their similarities like how they are both funny/sarcastic, and how they are both brave. (Mostly)

ACTIONS/MOTIVES

Sabrina has tried her whole life to protect Daphne and get away from Ferryport landing, because she distrusts all the Everafters, and thinks somewhere, one of those people stole her parents. She's always trying to help, and thinks that everyone never wants a Grimm's help, but she tries anyway. Sabrina is formally known as the Queen of Sneaks to Prince Charming's army, who stop try to stop the Scarlett Hand (Bad Everafters) because she loves to find out information and loves to create mischief. Daphne, on the other hand, always is teaching people how to use magic. She has an eye for that type of stuff, and she thinks that everyone who can use magic, should try to. She loves to hang out, and play prank's with "The Trickster King, Crowned King of Faries, Prince of slackers, good for nothing, sneaky, dirty hooligans," (formally known as Sabrina's boyfriend,Puck) because he always has something fun to do, and he can always be count on to make someone smile. Daphne also loves to hang out with all the Everafters, because joining the Grimm detective family business and meeting her bed time stories, has been a dream come true for the little eight-year-old girl.

COMBAT ABILITIES

Sabrina is really good with fighting with a sword, unlike Daphne. She is really swift with her movements, and she has a magical ability to transfer her anger, sadness, happiness, and other emotions, into other people/enemies, and she can show them how everyone and everything means to her, and how they would wreak down everything. She can also lay down some serious truth. She has an ability to speak powerfully, and help her enemies realize what they're doing. It's almost like a charm speak, but she doesn't control their mind. But Sabrina can't use other magical items, such as wands, magical rings, or orbs, because she's been touched. What that means, is she can't use specific magical items for too long, because she has an addiction, and she would always want more magic, until she drives herself crazy. On that happy note, let's talk about Daphne. Daphne is the exact opposite of Sabrina. She isn't good with swords, knives, arrows, or anything like that, but she's an amazing magic wielder. She's only eight years old, but she's already as powerful and good as some of the most amazing witches, like Baba Yaga, Bunny, Morgan Le Fay, and Glinda the Good witch. Not only is Daphne a great magic caster, but she also understands that magic can't be used for everything, and she knows when enough is enough. Daphne also knows that she should never intentionally hurt her enemies. First, she tries to disarm, trip, bind, or disable her enemies. Then she says that she is sorry before she blasts them to ashes. She and Sabrina are different in their fighting ways with magic and swords, but they are both excellent speakers. Sabrina and Daphne Grimm are different in many ways, but they are also mirror images. One thing they will both have in common no matter what, is how much they care for each other. (And they want to kick some serious Scarlett Hand booty!)
