

THE CLASS OF BUFF

Omniscient:

Twass the night before school started and the teacher was sleeping on his desk (teachers totally do that). What he did not realize was the day coming was going to be his worst nightmare. The class he would be working with for the next year walked in the room. There was a kid named Bull Ee who was about the size of an elephant. Stick Man who could not even lift a pencil and Trustee Calk later. He was usually inside of his desk waiting to be taken out and used. Mr. Kcalop was known to be the nicest math teacher of the school but nobody was smart enough for his class. They had to go to Mrs. KrasilDobVisCocks class. After about 30 mins of class the worst happens. Abuff Kid joined the class. He was famous around the school for beating up other kids, especially Bull Ee. Abuff Kid challenged Bull Ee to a fight and it was on!

Mrs.KrasilDobVisCocks tried to put a stop to this before it got worse but it was to late. A buff Kid flexed his muscles so hard the weight of the earth was quadrupled. The sun got mad because it wanted to be the heaviest thing in the milky way , It started to head towards earth. Everyone was panicking but Mrs.(you know who) knew what to do.

She split into four different teachers Mrs.Krasilovsky, Mrs.Dobmeier, Mrs.Davis and Mrs.Simcock. Together they stopped the calamity with giving the sun extra homework. They left with only one clue of where they were going the clue was, Raccoon BurnRock . Students as you leave class today give a moment or two to look for these teachers. You might find them who knows?

First Perspective:

It was the night before school started and I was sleeping on my desk (dont judge me ok!). I woke up and it was one minute before school started. When I looked at the students they were weird looking with odd names. There was a kid named Bull Ee who was about the size of an elephant, Stick Man who could not even lift a pencil and Trustee Calk later. He was usually inside of his desk waiting to be taken out and used. Mr. Kcalop was known to be the nicest math teacher of the school but everybody liked me more...I think. They had to go to math so I could teach my dog tricks. (switching perspectives) I saw my class. "Pff I've seen a worse class" I mumbled . After about 30 mins of class the worst happens. Abuff Kid joined the class. I was terrified because he would probably beat me up. Abuff Kid challenged Bull Ee to a fight and I was scared . I tried to put a stop to this before it got worse but it was to late. Abuff Kid flexed his muscles so hard the weight of the earth was quadrupled. I think the sun got mad because it wanted to be the heaviest thing in the milky way , It started to head towards earth. I was freaking out but I thought of a way to stop the sun from coming.

I split into four different teachers, Mrs.Krasilovsky, Mrs.Dobmeier, Mrs.Davis and Mrs.Simcock. I stopped the calamity by doing the easiest but most efficient way to stop someone from doing something bad, giving the sun extra homework. I left that school because am I dealing with that again? You bet I'm not!
