Maple is really terrible at soccer. Even she admits it. Her coach even has extra training with her. Whenever she does one v ones or two v twos, she always loses.

One day, Maple goes to soccer practice and once again, when they did one v ones and two v twos, she lost every single one. When they did relay races, she lost every single time. When they did passing, she did not have accuracy nor hard passes. She was the definition of terrible. Even she thought she did horrible.

The next day, Maple had a soccer game. She once just kicked the ball without even thinking. She also passed the ball to the other team! She played defence too! You would never expect that from a defender. At the end of the game, one of her teammates Olivia said “My uncle is doing soccer training next week. He’d love for you to come!”

Next week, Maple decided to go to the training. She met someone named Alex there and they became friends. Olivia's uncle was so nice and told her some tips on passing. Number one, lock your ankle. Number two, toe up and number three, make sure to have your plant foot point at the target. He also told her a tip for dribbling, for her to take smaller touches.

At Maple's next soccer practice, she got a lot better. She beat almost everyone!

The End!

My name is Maple and I am a horrible soccer player. I lose at everything! I even have extra training with my coach, nothing helps!

The next day, when we did one v ones and two v twos, I lost. I'm not surprised. When we did relay races, I lost every single one. When we practiced passing, there was no accuracy nor hardness. I did horrible again! I'm still not surprised.

The next day, I had a soccer game. I just kicked the ball without thinking. I passed the ball to the other team and I was defence! That's how they scored. At the end of the game, one of my teammates Olivia said "My uncle is doing soccer training next week. He'd love for you to come!"

The next week came, and I decided to go to the training. I met someone named Alex there and we became friends. Olivia's uncle was nice and told me some tips on passing. Number one, lock your ankle. Number two, toe up. Number three, make sure your plant foot is pointing at the target. He also gave me a tip on dribbling. Take smaller touches.

At my next practice, I beat almost everyone!

The End!
