

Past, Present, and Future

(Omniscient)

It was July 10th, 2987. There was a terrible troll attack and hurricane that June. The townsfolk were still recovering. All was not good. As we near the town's square, you will notice the technology and the overall sense of great remorse. You also can't help noticing their hair color, eye color, company, names and posture, because they held themselves importantly and had unnaturally colored hair, eyes and pets also, their names matched the color of their hair, eyes, and pets.

I am going to introduce you to the kids. First, Firenza's boyfriend, Skye. He is a telopath. That means that he can see straight into your soul (it does have its setbacks when you try to lie to him.) also, he can read your mind. He has baby-blue hair and light blue eyes. He has a pet ferret, Cloudy.

Next, is Rowanoak. He has brown eyes and chocolate hair. Yeah, you kind of already can guess his power. Charm. His hair smells like fresh brownies, and when he really wants something, his puppy-dog eyes do the talking. But he also has his setbacks. He has a brown rabbit, Choco.

Then, there is Neil. He has bright green hair and brighter green eyes. His power is mind control. It could get very annoying at times. Once, he even made Firenza make a fire so he could do a "ceremonial" thing. At least, that was what he told her once he let her out from under his mind-control. He has a bright green parrot, Captain Featherbrain, Next, is Magnus. He had green/yellow eyes, and pure blonde hair. He was in control of the light. Not a good thing. He had once manipulated Firenza's pet tabby, Roxanne. He manipulated her by bending the light so it was like an irresistible laser beam. He made the poor thing forget about her dinner. His pet is a beautiful golden stallion, Sundrop.

Next, is George. The poor thing is stuck with purple hair, like his sister, Lavender. Not the best thing in the world, but you can see him in a crowd. So, his power is the power of transformation. If you come across a fidgeting purple elk, standing next to a purple lioness, ignoring the elk, assume that it is George and tickle it. His pet is a purple lioness, Samara.

Now, George's sister, Lavender. Purple hair and bluish-purple eyes. The whole purple getup. She can control emotions, especially very strong ones. Her pet is a purple fox, Geode.

Next is Opal. She is a psychic. She sees your future, past and present. (note to the wise, NEVER EVER FIGHT OPAL, you WILL LOSE!) She has long, silvery hair and silvery eyes. She has a pet hamster, Titanium.

Up next is Shelly. Shelly has turquoise hair and blue eyes. She controls all bodies of water. She has a pet unicorn, Ocean.

There is also Firenza. She has red hair and controls fire. She has a pet tabby, Roxanne.

A group of boys were orderly tossing around a glowing sphere of gears and whatnot. As a new person caught it, it would emit a high-pitched screech and change color from green, to yellow, to geode-purple, to auburn and then start the cycle over as Neil with green hair and bright green eyes, passed to Magnus with blonde hair and yellow/green eyes, who passed to George with geode-purple hair and eyes the color of a violet, who passed to Rowanoak with cute auburn hair and adorable brown puppy-dog eyes, who passed it back to Neil.

A couple of girls, near the fountain were glowering at the boys and their ball. Let's just say this now, and the fact that Lavender, who had lavender hair and purley-blue eyes, Opal, who had silver hair and silver eyes, and Shelly, who had brilliant blue hair and blue eyes, all hated the boys, in the past, and present, will greatly impact our tale.

"HEY ROWANOAK! Your

*ggggggggggggiiiiiiiiiiiiirrrrrrrrrrrrrllllllllllllllllllffffffff
ffffffrrrrrrrrrrrrrrriiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiieeeeeeeeeeeeeenn nnnnnnnnnnnnnnnddddddccccccccc is here!"*

Lavender said, stretching out “girlfriend” because it was a well-known fact that Rowanoak had a crazy crush on Firenza.

“I am NOT HIS GIRLFRIEND!!! HE ONLY HAS A CRUSH ON ME AND THAT IS THAT!” stated

Firenza who had long red, red, red hair, which she flipped, impatiently. With reddish eyes, the color of the ruby ring she always wore around her finger, had just walked in from the lake with Skye who had baby-blue hair and light blue eyes, her actual boyfriend, and was blushing furiously, so that her cheeks matched her hair.

“Yeah, she is not my girlfriend!” Rowanoak said, unconvincingly

“FIRENZA IS NOOOOTT HIS GIRLFRIEND.” Skye said, with a glare. His eyes pierced everyone in the circle, as if looking straight into the depths of their souls, making them tightly grasp their loyal companions.

“Who cares, anyway? Firenza is already dating Ssskkyyeee, the “cool guy” in town.

Humph, I will only know as a nerd.” Lavender said; making kissy faces at Skye and Firenza.

“Y-”, Shelly started to say

“Look at your hair!! HA! Who’s Alberto Einstein now, huh” Taunted Lavender.

“HEY! LAVENDER, STOP IT!!!!” Shelly screamed, because Lavender was lying.

What that something was, we would never had known anyway, because, then there was a deep rumble that seemed to come from the core of the earth.

Everyone was petrified, especially Firenza, whose hands suddenly ignited on their own accord, which never, ever, ever happens, and Shelly, who accidentally soaked everyone who was within a fifty-foot berth.

“What on earth is happening?” everyone thought. Little did they know that up ahead, the path was treacherous, and one of their number would be lost forever, unless they could defeat the great steampunk, Sadie.

An unspoken agreement passed through them. They would find the source of the noise, and extinguish it forevermore.

Their journey would start tomorrow and go on until the final snowflakes had fallen and melted. They would succeed, and forevermore be heroes.

Hello, I am Firenza, am I am going to tell you basically how I went positively NUTS!

I am going to introduce you to my friends. First, my boyfriend, Skye. He is a telopath. That means that he can see straight into your soul (it does have its setbacks when you try to lie to him.) also, he can read your mind. He has the prettiest baby-blue hair and light blue eyes. He has a pet ferret, Cloudy. She is a real nutter.

Next, is Rowanoak. He has the most ADORABLE brown eyes and chocolate hair. Yeah, you kind of already can guess his power. Charm. His hair smells like fresh brownies, and when he really wants something, his puppy-dog eyes do the talking. But he also has his setbacks. He is a TERRIBLE liar. It really is annoying. He has the CUTEST brown rabbit, Choco.

Then, there is Neil. He has bright green hair and brighter green eyes. His power is mind control. It could get very annoying at times. Once, he even made me make a fire so he could do a “ceremonial” thing. At least, that was what he told me once he let out from under his mind-control. He has a bright green parrot, Captain Featherbrain, and like Neil, Featherbrain is extremely annoying. (and a TOTAL featherbrain)

Next, was Magnus. He had green/yellow eyes, and pure blonde hair. He was in control of the light. Not a good thing. He had once manipulated my pet tabby, Roxxanne. She has the most gorgeous red fur. But, enough about her, so he manipulated her by bending the light so it was like an irresistible laser beam. He made the poor thing forget about her dinner. His pet is a beautiful golden stallion, Sundrop.

Next, is George. The poor thing is stuck with purple hair, like his sister, Lavender. Not the best thing in the world, but you can see him in a crowd. So, his power is the power of transformation. If you come across a fidgeting purple elk, standing next to a purple lioness, ignoring the elk, assume that it is George and tickle it. His pet is a purple lioness, Samara.

Now, George's sister, Lavender. Purple hair and bluish-purple eyes. The whole purple getup. She can control emotions, especially very strong ones. Her pet is a purple fox, Geode.

Next is Opal. She is a psychic. She sees your future, past and present. (note to the wise, NEVER EVER FIGHT OPAL, you WILL LOSE!) She has long, silvery hair and silvery eyes. She has a pet hamster, Titanium.

Up next is Shelly. Shelly has turquoise hair and blue eyes. She controls all bodies of water. She has a pet unicorn, Ocean.

There is also me, Firenza. I have red hair and I control fire. My pet tabby, Roxxanne is the BEST!

Ok, so I was out on the pond, skipping rocks with Skye. When we went back to town's square and saw Rowanoak blushing his little heart out, and Lavender, who noticing my presence, screeched with her maniac joy.

Lavender's version of a friendly greeting pierced my ears and left them ringing for an hour.

“I am NOT HIS GIRLFRIEND!!! HE ONLY HAS A CRUSH ON ME AND THAT IS THAT!” I met Lavender’s screech.

“Yeah, she is not my girlfriend!” Rowanoak said, unconvincingly. As much as I liked the little guy with his auburn hair, thick glasses, and brown puppy-dog eyes, I wasn't about to go on a date with him.

"Who cares, anyway? Firenza is already dating Skye, the "cool guy" in town. Humph, I will only know him as my nerdy older brother." Said Lavender, making kissy faces at Skye and I.

"Y—" Shelly started.

"Look at your hair!! HA! Who's Alberto Einstein now, huh" Taunted Lavender.

"HEY! LAVENDER, STOP IT!!!!" Shelly screamed, because Lavender was lying

It wouldn't have mattered if Lavender had distracted Shelly or not, because, at that moment, a bone-rattling, hair-raising, resounding roar emitted from the core of our planet. Everyone froze around me. I was staring in awe at my hands, which suddenly ignited, setting Timothy's shirt on fire. As I was setting out the fire on Timothy's shirt, I was soaked with Carol's water. I shivered. We all wondered what happened and silently agreed to stop whatever-or whomever had caused the noise. We set out the next day and came back many moons later.

THE END!
