

Goldilocks and the three shark

(An adaptation of Goldilocks and the Three Bears)

By Jack M.

Once upon a time there was a teenager named Goldilocks. Goldilocks was on a scuba diving trip with her family. She found scuba diving boring and she was pouting the whole trip. At the first diving spot, Goldilocks decided to wander off. After about 5 minutes of swimming she came to a coral reef. At the edge of the reef there was a little seashell cottage. Goldilocks decided to enter the cottage. Nobody was there. When she swam left she saw a hard rock tables with 3 plates of sushi.

One big, one medium, and one small. She tried the big roll first, too spicy. Then the second roll, too bland. finally, she tried the third roll, just right. After her meal she decided to take a seat and watch the sharks swim around the reef. She saw three fancy coral chairs, one big one medium and one small. She tried sitting in the big one, too hard. Then she tried the medium one, too soft. finally ,she tried the small chair, just right. After about a minute of sitting, the chair suddenly collapsed. After all this Goldilocks was tired and decided to take a nap. She swam upstairs and found 3 seaweed beds. One was big, one was medium, and one was small..

She laid on the big one and the pillow was way to rocky. She got up and tried the medium one, the pillow was way too sandy. Next she tried the small bed and the pillow was just right. Goldilocks nuzzled in and decided to take a nap. While Goldilocks was napping, the shark family was just getting home from their whale watching trip. When they arrived home they saw that their front door was open. When they walked in they noticed that someone has been eating their sushi."Somebody has been eating my sushi." said Papa shark ." Somebody has been eating my sushi." said momma shark. "Somebody has been eating my sushi, and they ate it all up." said baby shark. When the sharks swam right they saw that somebody had been sitting in their fancy coral chairs." Somebody has been sitting in my chair." said papa shark. "Somebody has been sitting in my chair." said momma shark. " Somebody has been sitting in my chair, and they broke it." Said baby shark. Afterwards, the sharks swam upstairs only to discover that someone has been laying in their beds. "Someone's been laying in my bed." said papa shark. " Someone's been laying in my bed." said momma shark. Someone's been laying in my bed, and she's still there. Once Goldilocks woke up she discovered three sharks looking down at her. Goldilocks got up and swam as fast as she could to the boat. As the boat drove away Goldilocks was so relieved she hadn't been eaten.
