

Annabeth Chase vs. Piper McLean

By: Kim M.

Annabeth Chase

Piper McLean

These two characters from the books of Percy Jackson and The Lost Hero series are very important. They may have the same elements but they're VERY different. In this compare and contrast, you will learn much about Annabeth Chase and Piper McLean.

Let's start off with their appearance. Their hair is different. Annabeth has dirty blonde curly hair and wears her hair up a lot. Almost like a princess. And Piper has a brownish chocolate hair. Annabeth is the daughter of the goddess, Athena. Athena is the goddess of wisdom and war. Annabeth dresses very casual when she is not fighting. She usually wears jeans or any type of pants with a flannel and a jacket. Almost never skirts or dresses unless she is at a professional or fancy event. Piper has a similar style as Annabeth. Piper is known as the tomboy in her family. She is very odd because people see her as a girly, yet she is a tomboy. Annabeth and Piper both have tan skin. It is said Piper's eye color always changes since she is the daughter of Aphrodite which is called a kaleidoscope. Piper is supposedly very pretty since she is the daughter of Aphrodite. Annabeth has gray stormy intimidating eyes (as Percy describes her) on the other hand.

Moving on to personality traits. To start off, Annabeth is the daughter of Athena so she is incredibly smart. Annabeth is the architect for Olympus. Annabeth is also brave and stubborn. Stubborn is one of her negative traits but we all have them don't we? Annabeth also get her bold traits from her mother, Athena. Annabeth can also think on her feet which means she reacts to things very defensively and doesn't really think about what she says most of the time and she just says it. You can also call her a very straight forward person. On the other hand, Piper has a caring personality and a sense of humor. Her mood changes when things get serious though. Piper is a good friend and very supportive. Her personality is not surprising because, again, daughter of Aphrodite. I think you get it now.

Piper is unique because she is not considered shallow unlike her brothers and sisters. Together they have similar personalities when it comes to fighting

Next is action and motives. When Annabeth was 7 she ran away from home. She did this because she was blamed at home for the monster attacks on her family. Her father and step-mother would always blame Annabeth, which caused fighting and arguing. Another childhood action of Annabeth's was when Luke Castellan and Thalia Grace was hiding out in an alley after escaping the house of monsters, while Annabeth was in the SAME alley as them hiding under a sheet of corrugated iron. Luke lifted Annabeth's sheet and Annabeth rushed at him with her hammer at age 7. She did this because she was very scared and she thought he was a monster.

Annabeth almost crushed Luke's brain. There was not much on Piper so I only have one example which also has to do with her past before she knew she was a demigod. Piper likes to steal stuff. Piper only does these things so her father, Tristan McLean would pay more attention to her. One day, Piper asked a car dealer if she could borrow a car. He said yes. Shortly after, the car dealer realizes what he's done so he called the police and pressed charges. Tristan's assistant, Jane made a deal with the car dealer for her to go to Wilderness School instead of Jail. Piper has an unknowingly talent called charmspeaking.

Finally, their past. Piper's dad side of the family is Cherokee. When her Grandpa Tom was alive, hoped Piper would learn Cherokee songs. Different from other Aphrodite children, Piper never really paid attention to her beauty of any sort and has a tomboy personality and style. Fun fact, when Piper was six years old, Piper broke her arm falling off a horse. Piper met Leo Valdez at Wilderness School and trusted him so much, she told him that her father, Tristan McLean, is a movie star. Piper also fell in love with Jason Grace, another demigod. Half brother of Thalia Grace, children of Zeus. Annabeth was born on July 12, 1993. Annabeth's father, Frederick Chase, met Athena when he was studying History at Harvard, Athena helped him study and get through it. They fell in love. When Annabeth was born, Athena told Zephyros to deliver Annabeth to Frederick to take care of her. Frederick requested for Athena to take care of her but Athena told him that the mortal parent must take care of the baby. So, Frederick took in Annabeth willingly. Frederick married when Annabeth was 5. Frederick and the step-mother soon had 2 more children named Bobby and Matthew. Annabeth ran away when she was 7 because of all the fighting and arguing and was found by Luke Castellan and Thalia Grace. When they met Grover Underwood, a satyr, took them to Camp Half-Blood but took some wrong turns, ran into a cyclops lair. Annabeth was captured but all of them got away. Despite escaping the cyclops, lots of monsters were on their trail so Thalia made a sacrifice so the rest could make it to Camp safely. Zeus, her immortal father, turned her into a pine tree to save her. It's now called Thalia's Pine Tree.

This was my compare and contrast of Annabeth Chase and Piper McLean! I hope you got more information on these two or general information on greek gods and goddesses.