

The bear and the three humans

by Liam Z

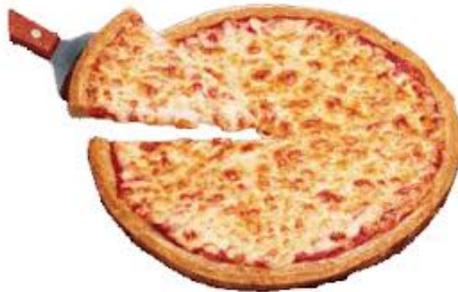

An adaptation of Goldilocks and the three bears

It was a fine afternoon for a picnic Goldilocks Bear. She was going out for a picnic with her family, which included a mom, a dad and Goldilocks. The three bears, who think they are humans decide it was a nice day to play a game of dodgeball. While Goldilocks and her family were enjoying the picnic the bears decided to choose teams. Today's the epic matchup was mom and baby versus daddy. But first, they would finish their picnic. Then finally there's a loud sploosh another sploosh. They were giant dodgeballs. They messed up all the food and the drinks. Goldilocks parents told her to stay where she was but she couldn't resist the urge to explore the woods.

As Goldilocks explored the woods it got colder. Then Goldilocks realized it was just a person off to the side with magical powers, making it colder. She told him to buzz off.

Then Goldilocks came across a huge house made of pretzels. She was very hungry she hasn't had anything since breakfast because the picnic was ended by the dodgeballs. She went into the house - not to intrude but just to warm up and maybe to get something to eat. When she got into the house great smells wafted everywhere including the smell of pizza. She was excited she hadn't had pizza in weeks.. She looked at the pizzas - they were not pleasing to her eye. She thought the big meaty pizza was for the dad who lived there.. She did not like meat. She went to the next pizza. It was full of all sorts of healthy items including broccoli. She did not like broccoli. So she moved to the last one- CHEESE!!!!!! Her favorite kind, she happily ate cheese pizza.

After she was full from eating her pizza she decided it was time to relax. Maybe whoever owned this house had a TV or an Xbox. She was overjoyed when she saw that they had three Xboxes. She was so excited! When she went to the first TV set she found an Xbox and a video game called Xtreme Hockey 4. She did not like hockey or sports. Next she came to another Xbox but it had one problem - it had Kinnect. She did not want to work out, but she did find a game but it was Get In Shape 3. Then she came to the final TV set with an Xbox. It had her favorite game Tickle the Puppy. She was overjoyed and she beat the high score. She was so happy she jumped up and down.

Finally she got tired of playing video games and decided it was time for a nap. She came to three couches. She went to the first one it was way too hard like it was made of rock. She went to the second one it was way too soft like it was entirely made of feathers and it was itchy. She came to the final one it was just right and she decided to take a nap. After she dozed off the three humans showed up. When they got to their kitchen table hoping to expect everything was normal they were wrong. As soon as they walked into the door crazy music played. As soon as they got to the kitchen table baby human shrieked. His pizza was gone. Then his high score on Tickle Puppy was beaten and all of their toilet paper was gone. Then they walked into the couch room and there was a drum roll. Then the dad punched the ceiling and everything was quiet. Then they found Goldilocks and asked the question in their heads. "Where did the toilet paper go?" Then they found Goldilocks. Finally they shot Goldilocks out of the window by the seat of her pants. Then she found her family and everything was at peace again except for the missing toilet paper.
