

Zombie Beauty
(Adaptation Of Sleeping Beauty)

Charlie Prince was an 11 year old kid living in a castle in a town called Forestville, because everyone lives in a castle in Forestville! It's a silly place because in Forestville, there are no trees. Charlie was about to go to Castletown Middle, but right now he goes to Stumpland Elementary School.

Charlie was on his phone while he was walking to school. Everyone like Charlie was on their phone all the time.

Today was the most important day of Charlie's life. He is going to take the Stumpland Elementary Graduation Exam. He nervously approached the school. His best friend Ari normally waits beside the door for him. But today she wasn't there because she was nervous about the exam too. Ari's full name is Australis Aurora, but all her friends call her Ari. They like to walk to their classroom and play Candy Crush together as they go everyday.

They unpack and sit at their wooden desks on their mushroom stools. Then the announcements come on.

“Good Morning Stumpland Elementary! It’s your host, Principal Cheeseburger and I have an important announcement for our fellow fifth graders! Just a reminder, you will be taking the exam today. If you don’t pass this test and get into Castletown middle school, I’ll curse your cell phone to run out of battery. Thank you Stumpland Elementary for letting me announce this important announcement!” Then the announcements turned off.

“Okay class! I’m going to give you that test the Principal talked about on the announcements. Please write your name and today’s date on your paper as soon as you get the exam.” Mrs. Olive said. The kids took the test and then the teacher said;

" Alright! Did everyone finish the test and give it to me?" She said. "YES." The class said. "Good. I'll give the tests to Principal Cheeseburger and he will determine who will go to Castletown Middle School. We will find out in 30 minutes." Then the bell rang and all the students left. "So. We find out in 10 minutes from now. Exciting." Ari said. In the meanwhile, they both received a text from the principal Cheeseburger. Charlie took a quick look at his phone and saw:

Dear Charlie Prince,

You Have Passed The Stumpland Elementary Graduation Exam and made it into Castletown Middle School. You have no more to stress about.

You could see Charlie was exited from the look on his face. Charlie asked Ari "Did you pass the test?" "I haven't read it yet and I'll tell you if I passed tomorrow." Ari said. The announcements went on. "Everyone is dismissed." Then it went off. When Ari looked at her phone she became upset.

Dear Australis Aurora,

You have not passed the Stumland Elementary Graduation Exam. I curse your Cell phone to run out of battery! You have a lot to stress about.

Then, Ari and Charlie were casually walking home like they did every day. When Ari's cell phone ran out of battery. Then she stopped walking and stood there. " Ari? Come on! What are you doing?" Charlie said. But she didn't reply. He noticed that her face was green and she never blinked.

He wondered why. Then he took out his phone and searched on Wiki Googlebottom;

While me and my friend were walking, My friend just stopped walking and stood there. She ignored me, her face is green and she's not blinking! What happened to her?

Then he searched.

I found 2 results of what you asked:

Your friend's phone battery ran out and she turned into a zombie because she didn't pass the Stumpland Elementary Graduation Exam. You need to give your friend the True Love's Charge.

She is ignoring you, does not want to move and is really stressed.

"Okay, well, I know she won't ignore me and is extremely active and she never told me if she had passed her test yet." He said to himself. Then his other friend Connor walked by and stopped to ask "What happened to Ar-" and before he could finish his sentence Charlie said "Did you pass the exam?"

"Yeah." Connor said.

"Cool."

"Can you help me?" Charlie asked.

"Yeah bro!" Connor said.

"Alright, we need to give her true loves charge. Her phone ran out of battery because she didn't pass the exam." Charlie said.

"Do you have a portable charger?"

"Yeah. Here you go. But you have to give it back dude." Connor said.

Then Charlie took the charger and plugged Ari's phone in. The chargers in Forestville instantly charge your phone completely after 50 seconds. After Ari's phone charged her face turned normal color and she started tapping on her phone again.

"Hi Charlie, Hi Connor." she said.

"So, you didn't pass the exam." Charlie said.

"Yup. I didn't pass." Ari replied, then asked;

"Can you help me study so I can retake the test?"

"Sure." Charlie said. "I'll help you."

"I'll help you too!" Connor said.

Then Charlie invited Ari and Connor over to his house so they could help Ari study. Ari started with a bad chance of passing, but because Charlie and Connor helped her study, she had a really good chance to pass this time. Connor and Ari left and went back to their castles. The next day Ari immediately asked the teacher; "Can I retake the exam?"

The teacher was really shocked she was in class today because the Principal cursed her.

"Sure kid. Live your dream." She said.

Then Ari breezed through the exam. She gave it to the teacher. 30 minutes later, she received a message on her phone in the middle of her Candy Crush level on her phone.

Dear Australis Aurora,

You Have Passed The Stumpland Elementary Graduation Exam and have made it into Castletown Middle School. You have no more to stress about.

Ari told her friends "I've made it!!!"

And then all her friends were excited they were all going to Castletown Middle School together and had a Happily Ever After.

The End...
