Kelly, Darbie and Hannah's Halloween Pranks

By Meghan C.

Omniscient

Hannah woke up with a startle. She had just experienced a nightmare. In her nightmare, Hannah got an A- on her science project. Fortunately for her, it was Halloween. On Halloween she didn't have school. This was a relief to Hannah because she was quite startled. Little did she know that this free day off would turn into a prank circle among Kelly, Darbie, and her.

Hannah decided she needed to go on a jog to calm herself down. While she was jogging she got a text from Darbie asking if she was already at school. Darbie asked this question everyday since they no longer go to the same school. Darbie wants to stay updated on Hannah's life.

Hannah panicked because she has never been late to school and plans to never be late. She put her phone in her purse and ran back home to get her backpack. Little did Hannah know this was all just a prank. Hannah glimpsed at the clock on her way out the door.

"It's 9:00! I will be 2 hours late for school. I hope everyone forgives me, especially Mom and Dad. Why didn't Mom wake me up this morning before she left for..." Hannah couldn't finish her thoughts because she had just arrived at school and nearly got a concussion from walking into her school door.

She tried opening the door to her school, but the door was locked. Then, to her complete surprise, Kelly and Darbie jumped out of what seemed to be nowhere but was actually from behind a tree. They screamed "Gotcha!" Hannah just screamed, "Aaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaal!" That was her loudest scream all day.

Right after Kelly and Darbie pranked her, Hannah started planning her prank. Hannah decided she would put a fake snake on the ground. She would take Kelly to come see the fake snake. Kelly would scream and run in the opposite direction leaving Darbie all alone, her worst fear.

The prank was finally set! Hannah ran over to Kelly and said, "Come here." Kelly saw the fake snake and ran all the way out of her backyard. Darbie was left alone in the dark and nearly started crying. Finally Hannah told Kelly and Darbie it was just a prank and they all hugged.

The End!!!

First Person

I woke up with a startle. I had just experienced a nightmare. In my nightmare, I got an A- on my science project! Maybe not to you, but to me an A- is horrible. Fortunately, it was Halloween and on Halloween, Fox Canyon doesn't have school. This was a relief to me because I was quite startled from my dream.

I decided I needed to go on a jog to calm myself down. While I was jogging I got a text from Darbie asking if I was already at school. Darbie asks this question everyday since we no longer go to the same school and she says she wants to stay updated.

I panicked because I have never been late for school. I put my phone in my purse and sprinted back home to get my backpack. I glimpsed at the clock on my way out the door.

"It's 9:00! I will be 2 hours late for school, I hope everyone forgives me, especially Mom and Dad. Why didn't Mom wake me up this morning before she left for..." I couldn't finish my thoughts because I had reached school.

I tried opening the door to Fox Canyon, but the door was locked. Suddenly Darbie and Kelly jumped out

I decided I would put a fake snake on the ground. I would take Kelly to go see the fake snake. Kelly would scream and run in the opposite direction leaving Darbie all alone, her worst fear.

The prank was finally set! I ran over to Kelly and said, "Come here." Kelly saw the fake snake and ran all the way out of her backyard. Darbie was left alone in the dark and probably started crying. Eventually I started feeling guilty about my revenge so I told Kelly and Darbie it was just a prank and we all hugged.

The End!!!

Here is a collage of the trio.
