

Goldilocks and the 3 aliens

By: Nicholas C

Everybody knows the story about Goldilocks and the 3 bears but do you really? I know the REAL story and I am going to tell you about it.

Once upon a time there lived Goldilocks who got kicked out of the bears' house. The poor girl was all alone and lonely until she heard a sound. The girl looked in the scrubs and bushes but found... Nothing. But then she felt a breeze and light from above. It was a U.F.O!

She stepped into the light, awed, and looked up trying to see what was happening above her head. She started to feel as if she were floating and looked down at her feet. However her feet were actually not touching the floor. She panicked and was put in a very comfy chair. The aliens told her they were named “mommy Blork, baby Blork, and daddy Blork.” The Borks said “We are going to leave you at our house while we go to our friends planet. We abducted you because we want to learn about the human lifestyle and then we are going to give you a billion dollars. Hope you don’t mind!”

“Sure I don’t mind at all” Goldilocks replied, trying to not express her desperation. She became homeless after losing her purse, the bears kicked her out, and would do anything to get some food, shelter and especially money.

As she arrived at the house of the Blorks, she saw all alien things like alien fruit, sleeping chairs, and Blorkian laptops. She was then left home alone. She was thinking of taking one little bite of the fruit they won't notice it, she thought. She took a bite of the big fruit. It was too juicy. She took a bite of the medium sized fruit. It was too dry. The small fruit tasted delicious she ate all of it. She then went to the Blorkian laptops. (Those things were more like controllers than laptops.) there were three of them. they won't noticed if I play a little bit of video games, she thought again not noticing her mistake. The big Blorkian laptop had too little buttons to play a game. The medium sized Blorkian laptop had too many buttons. The small Blorkian laptop had not too much and not too little buttons. She played for a while but then she RAGED so hard she broke the Blorkian laptop! She then stomped over to the sleeping chairs and slumped in the big one and it was too hard. The medium sized one was so soft she fell through the mattress. The small one was just right. She fell asleep. Later the Blorks saw how she ate their food, she broke the 5-thousand dollar Blorkian laptop, and she was sleeping in baby Blork's bed. They kicked her out of the sleeping chair and gave her zero dollars and got her back to Earth.
