

Egypt's Curse

By Nicholas C.

Omniscient Writing:

The friends Jerry and Jenny both got interested in Egypt's Curse, but they never told each other that they saw it on today's news. They met through working in an archeology center. They both were thinking of telling each other to go there. They of course never knew that they both wanted to go there. What they also didn't know is that the curse is real. Would they make it out alive?

Jerry and Jenny planned trips there thinking they were going alone. They both got permission to go inside the "Pyramid of Giza" at the same time. They didn't know this was a trap. They met, but it was too late. "Hi Jenny!" "Hi Jerry!" they greeted each other but the Curse was activated. "Fi Fa Foe Pom! Wait, how do you say that rhyme again? I've been sitting here for millions of years." The cursed pyramid said. "Ha Ha you don't know how to say that!" Jerry said. Jenny was laughing as hard as Jerry.

“Silence! Respect me or you will pay!” the cursed pyramid said “Nope you faker” savage Jerry said dabbing with Jenny. The next second they disintegrated.

First Person:(Jerry)

I was watching the News that was talking about Egypt's Curse which I knew was a joke. Jenny never watches the news so she won't know about it. I just want to screw the people who set this up and become rich instead of spending my time on boring archeology to get some money. The next day I planned a flight to Egypt, Giza and there I met Jenny my archeology parter “Hi

Jenny” I said and we then heard this weird voice “Fi Fa Foe Pom! Wait how do you say that rhyme again? I’ve been sitting here for millions of years.” That moment I realized these fakers are dumb heads.” Ha Ha you don’t know how to say that!” I exclaimed laughing with Jenny.

“Silence! Respect me or you will pay!” I then said “Nope you Faker” while savagely dabbing. I then disintegrated as a memer. Now I’m writing to you from heaven.

P.S. respect the Illuminati!
